

Peace Through Art: A Creative Gathering with Youth from Kuwait, Ethiopia, Turkey & Poland

As part of the Peace of Arts project, we recently held an unforgettable event bringing together young people from Kuwait, Ethiopia, Turkey, and Poland. Our goal was to explore how art can serve as a powerful tool for building peace — and the experience was filled with learning, sharing, and inspiration.

We began the day with a debate on “The Role of Art History in Promoting Peace.” Participants discussed how art acts as a unifying force across cultures and how it has been used to resist conflict, raise awareness, and drive social change.

Next, we dove into a series of famous artworks carrying strong peace messages — from Picasso’s Guernica to Banksy’s Girl with a Balloon. Each painting opened the door to new perspectives and deeper reflection.

One of the most exciting parts of the day was our specially designed Peace of Arts Kahoot! quiz. Divided into two international teams — Kuwait vs Ethiopia — the youth competed in a fun, interactive game focused on peace symbols, iconic artworks, and community arts. It wasn’t just about winning — it was about learning together, laughing together, and connecting across borders.

This event was not just a learning activity. It was a celebration of intercultural dialogue, team spirit, and the power of art as a bridge for peace.

Because we believe:

 Art speaks beyond language.

 Peace exists in every color.

 Youth are the key to change.
